Propsail LLC. is excited to announce the launch of the Propsail.com.

Propsail turned the old classifieds inside out and designed a buyer driven platform that meets the demands of both parties to a transaction. For too long the industry has been held captive to inferior platforms.

To the buyer, you were put first. We read thousands of reviews and complaints that went unanswered on other sites, before we developed anything. We created a plan to meet the demands of today's buyer through design, education, flow and site performance, and that became the foundation of Propsail.com.

To our sellers, Propsail was designed to truly connect to today's buyer. Through visuals we are able to create the emotional connection the buyer desires, in a format optimized for you. By giving buyers the information they want upfront it results in our sellers connecting with stronger leads. Our focus for development was how to make the listing process easier, smoother, and faster.

We aim to create the best market to buy and sell watercraft, while establishing stronger relationships within the boating community. Beyond a bulletin board for sales, we are focused on educating the community in all things boating and outdoors. Our team is available to answer any questions with the process of either buying or selling your watercraft. We have a multitude of partners that are available to assist in all avenues of the ownership process.

As Propsail grows, we are committed to enhancing the user experience. If you have suggestions, we are ready to listen.

Lastly, we'd like to thank you all for being a part of our journey and hope to see you all on the water. Have Fun!
